DETAIL ACTION

Notice to Applicant(s)

1. This office action is response to the amendment filed on April 13, 2009. As per request, claims 1, 6, 7 and 12 have been amended. Thus, claims 1-21 are still pending.
2. The prior art submitted on April 13, 2009 has been considered.
3. The rejections under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph have been withdrawn as to the amended claims.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

4. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. § 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

5. Claims 1-21 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Kiribayashi et al. (5,995,892).
6. As per claims 1-8, Kiribayashi et al. disclose the invention as claimed which includes a first detecting section of at least one first sensor located in a right hand portion of a vehicle and a second detecting section of at least one second sensor located in a left hand portion of the vehicle (see at least the abstract, figures 1, 6, 11 and the related text). Kiribayashi et al. also disclose that the sensors are disposed in a predetermined angle, such as 45 degree as shown in figure 33 and the related text.

7. As per claims 9 and 16, Kiribayashi et al. disclose the crash sensor (contact sensor) for detecting the deceleration is well known and old as disclosed in Japanese 5-38998 in column 1, lines 56-65).
8. As per claims 14 and 15, Kiribayashi et al. disclose that the front sensors are old and well known as shown in Japanese 6-79667 in column 2, lines 40-45.
9. With respect to claims 10-13 and 17-21, the limitations of these claims have been noted in the rejections above and in the Kiribayashi et al. reference. They are therefore considered rejected as set forth above.

Remarks

10. All claims are rejected.
11. Applicant's arguments filed on April 13, 2009 have been fully considered but they are not deemed to be persuasive.
12. In the amendment, applicants essentially argue that the Kiribayashi et al. fails to the claimed invention by referring to the figures 33 and 34 and give argument based on a potential condition (if ... then) which is irrelevant in the cited reference. This assumption is made up by the applicants. Furthermore, such argument was referred to the feature just added to the claim(s). Upon examination of the claims, the references cited clearly cover the subject matter AS CLAIMED by the applicants, in at least the abstract, figures 1, 6, 11 and the related text as pointed out in the previous rejections. Therefore, the rejections made are considered to be proper.
13. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).
14. A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within

TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
